

Creative Engagement Specialist job description

Kind. Caring. Understanding. Patient. Compassionate. These are a few of the attributes our clients use to describe Aging Wisdom creative engagement specialists. If these words describe you too, and you have life experience, a passion for helping others, are organized and dependable, then we have just the job for you!

MAKE A DIFFERENCE As a creative engagement specialist at Aging Wisdom you have the opportunity to make a difference in the life of an older adult. Our specialists find their work meaningful and feel rewarded and satisfied at the end of the day.

A TYPICAL DAY Our creative engagement specialists provide life enrichment opportunities for older adults (not personal care). Your time with a client at their home/residential community might include joining them for meals, outings, shopping, walks, scenic rides, reading, listening to music, reminiscing over photos and stories, working on a puzzle, going to museums, art projects, or even enjoying movies.

TEAM ENVIRONMENT We work in a team environment, supported by collaboration with care managers and a creative engagement specialist supervisor, quarterly staff training, ongoing team support, and a company culture of respect, integrity, professionalism, collaboration and service to our clients and our community.

If this sounds like the work environment you're seeking, we invite you to submit an application to join our team of creative engagement specialists.

JOB REQUIREMENTS

- Excellent English written and verbal communication skills are required.
- Must be proficient using email and have basic computer skills.
- Must have a reliable vehicle that is suitable to transport clients.
- Must be able to pass an extensive background check.
- Some college education is preferred.
- Experience in elder care, either professionally or with family members, is helpful but not required.

We offer training and provide a work environment that cultivates the unique talents of our employees.

HOW TO APPLY

To apply, please email careers@agingwisdom.com to request an application. Attach a resume and a cover letter to your email. Be sure to include your availability. We look forward to receiving your application!